In the process of mankind investigate natural rule: people know well many interactions in the nature, today all interactions in the nature are classed by four kinds of force: electromagnetic force, gravitation, weak force, and strong force. Since Einstein declared his next idea was to unify these four kinds force. This idea has been attracting many people to make great efforts to answer! For solve this question and find its mechanism of origin, I do some experiments and discover that the moving photons produce gravitation. My experiments reveal the origin of gravitation. Moreover I apply this discovery in the electromagnetic phenomena reveal the origin of electromagnetic force. In this book describe the detail of my experiment and all calculate. Base on this I first unify the electromagnetic force and gravitation: their essence is same and their size is equally. From this we can know the meaning of gravitational mass which Newton and Einstein defined and the meaning of electric charge which Coulomb and Franklin defined; moreover I further reveal the essence of caloric, and reveal the mechanism of chemical reaction, demonstrate the quantum and General theory of Relativity are all wrong. Along this way, I reveal the mechanism of motion in optics, thermal, electromagnet, and gravitation. This shows the mechanism of natural motion. Namely I find the essence natural rule that the nature how moving in atomic world and in the heavenly body world, and reveal what is the elementary particle in nature, the matter how to compose. That is to say the elementary particle in the Nature is photon; the moving photons produce electromagnetic force and gravitation. Meanwhile the photon also transmit these forces in space, from this engender chemical interaction, heat phenomenon, and other many natural phenomena, in the end come to being cosmos.
