Parent or Visitor? YOU Decide: Helping Long Distance Parents to Build Closer Connections with Their Families Emily M Morgan

No matter how far you live from your children, you are a parent. It doesn't matter if you're a FIFO worker, a soldier, a specialist consultant or living away from your children for any other reason. There are as many circumstances as there are families.

In the meantime, that precious handful of years when your kids still need you and want you around - it's gone so fast. You never get that time back. They are building memories and lives without you, and your parenting partner is shouldering the burden. That's not the family experience you signed up for.

So what's a long distance parent to do? Rely on intermittent Skype connections? Come home once a month and play the visitor, never truly engaging with your family's lives?

There's another way. With clear, step by step activities, resource recommendations and encouragement, this book will show you how.
