Adventures in the Wilderness: Or Camp-Life in the Adirondacks (Classic Reprint) William H. H. Murray

Keeseville route to parties entering the wilderness from Lake Champlain. Since its publication, information has reached him of such a nature as to induce the recommendation of the Plattsburg route as well. The latter is comparatively an easy route. From Plattsburg cars run to Point of Rocks; (or Ausable Forks), intersecting the Keeseville road, and saving some sixteen miles of unpleasant staging from Port Kent. At Fouquet's Hotel, Plattsburg, every facility for rest and preparation can be had. At Point of Rock parties can arrange to meet their means of conveyance to Martins, Smiths, Bartlett's, and other houses at St. Regis. Invalids, or persons not in robust health, who may venture upon this trip, will find Plattsburg a pleasant and convenient place for recuperation before cutting loose from all the amenities of civilization. The author would particularly advise all parties, before starting, to engage by letter conveyance from Point of Rocks to their destination.
